D. Todd Christofferson, October 2026 Conference

Conference Discussion Starter

Remember

> "At different times, President Dallin H. Oaks has reminded us that "as we make current decisions, we should always be asking, 'Where will this lead?' … What is the effect on our future of the decisions we make in the present?" President Oaks points out that each choice has an 'opportunity cost,' that is, 'if we spend time doing one thing, we lose the opportunity to do another.' What is the opportunity cost of gambling? What do you forgo in terms of money, time, relationships, and worthwhile pursuits? Where does it lead?"
